PRESIDENTS

"IT IS THE DUTY OF ALL NATIONS TO ACKNOWLEDGE THE PROVIDENCE OF ALMIGHTY GOD, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor." - George Washington

"We have ... capable ... unbridled ... Constitution ... religious people. It ... government ... Jay

"Before any ... consider ... as a member of civil society, he must be considered as a subject of the Governor of the Universe." - James Madison

"And can the liberties of a nation be thought secure when we have removed their only firm basis, a conviction in the minds of the people that these liberties are of the gift of God? That they are not to be violated but with His wrath? Indeed I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just; that His justice cannot sleep forever." - Thomas Jefferson

"Is it not that in ... birthday of the ... birthday of the ... event in the progress ... it not that the Declaration ... organized the ... the Redeemer's ... cornerstone of ... precepts of Christianity?" - John Quincy Adams

SUPREME COURT JUSTICES

"The Bible is the best of all books, for it is the word of God and teaches us the way to be happy in this world and in the next. Continue therefore to read it and to regulate your life by its precepts." - John Jay: First Chief Justice

"Providence has given to our people the choice of their rulers, and it is the duty, as well as the privilege and interest of our Christian nation, to select and prefer Christians for their rulers." - John Jay: First Chief Justice

"Human law must rest its authority ultimately upon the authority of that law which is Divine. ... Far from being rivals or enemies, religion and law are twin sisters, friends, and mutual assistants. Indeed, these two sciences run into each other." - James Wilson: Original Justice on the U.S. Supreme Court

"One of the beautiful boasts of our municipal jurisprudence is that Christianity is a part of the Common Law. ... There never has been a period in which the Common Law did not recognize Christianity as lying at its foundations. ... I verily believe Christianity necessary to the support of civil society." - Joseph Story: U.S. Supreme Court Justice

FOUNDING FATHERS

PRESIDENTS

"It is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor."
- George Washington: Commander-in-Chief in the American Revolution; Signer of the Constitution; First President of the United States

"We have no government armed with power capable of contending with human passions unbridled by morality and religion. Our Constitution was made only for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate to the government of any other." - John Adams: Signer of the Declaration of Independence; One of Two Signers of the Bill of Rights; Second President of the United States

"Before any man can be considered as a member of civil society, he must be considered as a subject of the Governor of the Universe." - James Madison: Signer of the Constitution; Fourth President of the United States

"Is it not that in the chain of human events, the birthday of the nation is indissolubly linked with the birthday of the Savior? – that it forms a leading event in the progress of the Gospel dispensation? Is it not that the Declaration of Independence first organized the social compact on the foundation of the Redeemer's mission upon earth? – That it laid the cornerstone of human government upon the first precepts of Christianity?"
- John Quincy Adams: Statesman; Diplomat; Sixth President of the United States

FOUNDING FATHERS

"An appeal to arms and to the God of hosts is a[l]l is left us!... Sir, we are not weak if we make a proper use of th[e] means which the God of nature has placed in our power. Besides, sir, we shall not fight our battles alone. There is a God who presides over the destinies of nations and will raise up friends to fight our battles for us... Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!"
- Patrick Henry:
Patriot and Statesman

"I've lived, sir, a long time, and the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth: That God governs in the affairs of men. If a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid? We've been assured in the sacred writings that unless the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain who build it. I firmly believe this, and I also believe that without His concurring aid, we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel." - Benjamin Franklin: Signer of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution

SUPREME COURT JUSTICES

"The Bible is the best of all books, for it is the word of God and teaches us the way to be happy in this world and in the next. Continue therefore to read it and to regulate your life by its precepts."
"Providence has given to our people the choice of their rulers, and it is the duty, as well as the privilege and interest of our Christian nation, to select and prefer Christians for their rulers."
- John Jay: Co-Author of the Federalist Papers; First Chief-Justice of the U.S. Su reme Court

CONGRESS

"At the time of the adoption of the Constitution and the amendments, the universal sentiment was that Christianity should be encouraged...In this age there can be no substitute for Christianity...That was the religion of the founders of the republic and they expected it to remain the religion of their descendants."
House Judiciary Committee Report, March 27, 1854

EDUCATION

"Let every student be plainly instructed and earnestly pressed to consider well the main end of his life and studies is to know God and Jesus Christ which is eternal life (John 17:3) and therefore to lay Christ in the bottom as the only foundation of all sound knowledge and learning. And seeing the Lord only giveth wisdom, let every one seriously set himself by prayer in secret to seek it of Him (Proverbs 2, 3). Every one shall so exercise himself in reading the Scriptures twice a day that he shall be ready to give such an account of his proficiency therein."
Harvard 1636
Student Guidelines

"All the scholars are required to live a religious and blameless life according to the rules of God's Word, diligently reading the Holy Scriptures, that fountain of Divine light and truth, and constantly attending all the duties of religion."
Yale 1787
Student Guidelines

SUPREME COURT RULINGS

"There[fore] no ordinance in these [legal] [tra]tions. The[y] are not individual sayings, [de]clarations of [the] persons: they are organic [le]gal. [Th]ese [u]nanimous utterances; they speak the [vo]ice of the entire people...These, and many other matters which might be noticed, add a volume of unofficial declarations to the mass of organic utterances that this is a Christian nation."
Church of the Holy Trinity
v. U.S., 1892
Unanimous Decision Declaring America a Christian Nation Significantly, the U. S. Supreme Court cited dozens of court rulings and legal documents as precedents to arrive at this ruling; but in 1962, when the Supreme Court struck down voluntary prayer in schools, it did so without using any such precedent.

FOREIGNERS

"The Americans combine the notions of Christianity and of liberty so intimately in their minds that it is impossible to make them conceive the one without the other."
"Upon my arrival in the United States, the religious aspect of the country was the first thing that struck my attention; and the longer I stayed there, the more did I perceive the great political consequences resulting from this state of things, to which I was unaccustomed. In France I had almost always seen the spirit of religion and the spirit of freedom pursuing courses diametrically opposed to each other; but in America I found that they were intimately united, and that they reigned in common over the same country."
Alexis de Tocqueville
French observer of America in 1831, author of Democracy in America

ChefTalk

From fresh inland streams to deep blue ocean waters, fish and seafood is a favorite food. Baked, broiled, grilled, poached, smoked, fried, breaded or steamed.....
Appetizers, spreads, salads, or main course ..... Seafood can be healthy, easy to prepare and delicious. Here are some great recipes -- enjoy!

Fish 'n Kraut Sandwich

Serves 4

1 cup cooked, flaked fish
1 tablespoon horseradish mustard
½ cup drained sauerkraut
8 slices rye bread
¼ cup chopped dill pickles
4 1-ounce slices Swiss cheese
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine first 5 ingredients; mix well.
Spread ¼ of mixture on each of 4 slices of bread; cover each with cheese slice and top with remaining bread.
Melt butter in skillet. Place sandwiches in skillet and grill on both sides until golden brown.

Herbed Shrimp in Beer

Serves 6

2 lb Peeled raw shrimp
1 1/2 c Great western beer
2 Cl Garlic, minced
2 tb Chives, snipped
2 tb Parsley, snipped
1 1/2 ts Salt
1/2 ts Pepper
Shredded lettuce
2 Green onions, finely chopped

Combine all ingredients except lettuce and green onions in a bowl. Cover, Refrigerate 8 hours or overnight; stir occasionally.
Drain, reserve marinade.
2. Broil shrimp 4 inches from heat until cooked & tender (about 2 minutes on each side, less for small shrimp) Do not overcook or shrimp will become tough.
Brush occasionally with marinade.
3. Serve shrimp on shredded lettuce; sprinkle with chopped green onion. (marinade may be heated and served for dipping, if desired)

Tangy Broiled Fish

Serves 6

2 pounds fish fillets
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
2/3 cup tomato juice
1 5/8-ounce envelope French dressing mix
3 tablespoons vinegar
Florida lime wedges

Place fish in a single layer in a shallow baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly.
Pour sauce over fish and let stand for thirty minutes, turning once. Remove fish, reserving sauce for basting.
Place fish on a well-oiled broiler pan. Broil about 4 inches from the source of heat for 4 to 5 minutes.
Turn fish carefully and baste with sauce. Broil 4 to 5 minutes longer or until fish flakes easily and is no longer translucent in the center. Serve with lime wedges.

Deep Fried Squid Rings

Serves 6

2 lb Squid
1/2 c Flour
1 teasp Salt
1/8 teasp Pepper
2 Eggs
1 c Milk
1 1/2 c Italian bread crumbs

Cut the cleaned squid body into 1/2" wide rings. Rinse well under cold running water. In deep fryer heat oil to 375.
In plastic bag combine flour, salt & pepper. Add a few squid rings at a time, shake until well coated.

In a shallow bowl combine 2 eggs and 1 cup milk (beaten). Dip squid in liquid then in about 1-1/2 Cups Italian Bread Crumbs.
Fry a few at a time about 45 seconds or until golden brown. Drain and keep warm. Serve with cocktail sauce or tartar sauce.

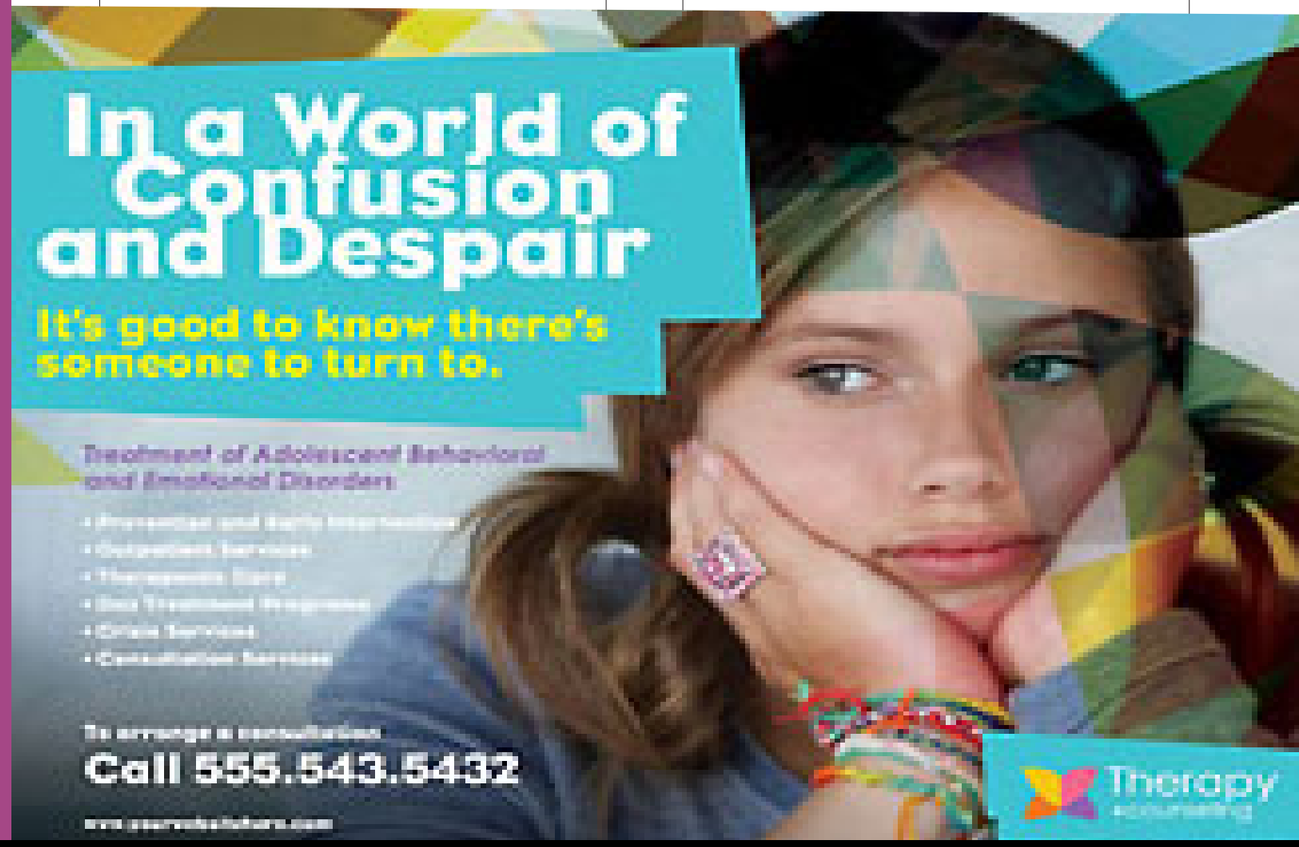

Grilled Fish in Foil

Serves 4

1 lb Fish Fillets, Fresh or Frozen
2 tb Margarine Or Butter
1/4 c Lemon Juice
1 tb Chopped Parsley
1 ts Dill Weed
1 ts Salt
1/4 ts Pepper
1 x Paprika
1 ea Med. Onion, Thinly Sliced

On 4 large buttered squares of heavy-duty aluminum foil, place equal amounts of fish.
In small saucepan, melt margarine; add lemnon juice, parsley, dill weed, salt and pepper. Pour equal amounts over fish.
Sprinkle with paprika; top with onion slices. Wrap foil securely around fish, leaving space for fish to expand.
Grill 5 to 7 minutes on each side or until fish flakes with fork.
Refrigerate leftovers

Abstract In a constantly changing and increasingly globalized world, religion still plays a significant role in influencing social and consumer behavior. This study will analyze what influence religion and intensity of belief has on attitudes towards the advertising of particular controversial products and services. A questionnaire was distributed to 1,393 people across six different countries and resulting in samples of four main religious groups. The results indicated some statistically significant differences between the groups, which can have important implications for global marketers.

Introduction

Religious beliefs play a significant part in sculpting social behaviour. Differences in religious affiliations tend to influence the way people live, the choices they make, what they eat and whom they associate with. According to Hirschman (1983), the religious affiliations of Catholics, Protestants and Jews significantly shaped their attitudes towards dancing, magazines, restaurants and political ideas. There is also a strong relationship between religious persons and greater concern for moral standards (Wiebe and Fleck, 1980), being conservative (Barton and Vaughan, 1976), and possessing more traditional attitudes (Wilkes et al., 1986). The impact of religion on consumption patterns usually relates to the restriction of certain foods and beverages, for example, Jews and Muslims do not eat pork, Hindus do not eat beef, and drinking alcohol is frowned upon if not forbidden by Islam and strict Protestants. Religion also influences gender roles in a particular culture. In Islamic countries, both men and women must cover their torso and upper legs at all times and in the case of women only their faces' skin may be exposed (Deng et al., 1994).

The influence of religious beliefs on individual and social behaviour is well documented (see Greeley, 1977; Hirschman, 1983; LaBarbera, 1987; Uppal, 1986; Anand and Kumar, 1982; Luqmani et al., 1987; Michell and Al-Mossawi, 1999; LaBarbera, 1987; McDaniel and Burnett, 1990; Waller and Fam, 2000; Birch et al., 2001). However, a review of the pertinent literature showed only a handful of studies that directly

That they have done so should not be surprising. Globalization processes of the last two centuries – made possible by technological innovations, economic integration, and expansion of empires[1] – also transformed religious communities, impressing upon them, from the grassroots level to spiritual leaders, new possibilities to promote their own faith and values, as well as the urgent need to resist the encroachments of their rivals. Buddhist, Christian, Hindu, Islamic, and Jewish communities all created their own 'religious internationals' that sought common cause with their co-religionists across national boundaries.[2] If often focused on quintessentially 'religious' responsibilities, such as education, mission work, or charitable goals, these religious actors were just as frequently confronted with the political context – local,

The testimony of prayer of George Mueller

One day George Mueller began praying for five of his friends. After many months, one of them came to the Lord. Ten years later, two others were converted. It took 25 years before the fourth man was saved. Mueller persevered in prayer until his death for the fifth friend, and throughout those 52 years he never gave up hoping that he would accept Christ! His faith was rewarded, for soon after Mueller's funeral the last one was saved.

Power of Prayer in Salvation

Some years ago a young girl was very sick and not expected to recover. Because of her love for Jesus she was troubled that she had not been able to do more for Him in her short life. Her pastor suggested that she make a list of people in their little town who needed Christ and pray that they might put their faith in Him. She took his advice, made a list, and prayed often for each person.

Some time later God began to stir a revival in the village. The girl heard of the people who were coming to Christ and prayed even more. As she heard reports, she checked off the names of those who had been led to the Lord.

After the girl died, a prayer list with the names of 56 people was found under her pillow. All had put their faith in Christ—the last one on the night before her death.

Such is the power of definite, specific, fervent prayer. Do you have a prayer list?

Wise Thoughts

Pray until something happen.

.....

When God does not answer your prayer, it is because he has something better for you.

Do not pray for easy life, pray for the strength to endure a difficult one.

People are lonely because they build walls instead of bridges
